"OYSTERS will be very dear this winter." This bit of news will be very depressing to the lovers of these luscious bivalves, but, of course it is all to be attributed to the "100-3 infamy."

The protracted meeting at the Methodist church is still in progress. The prospects are for an interesting revival, and the meeting will be continued throughout next week.

STAINED glass windows have been recently placed in the new Catholic church. They are of handsome design and will add greatly to the beauty and finish of the interior of this tasty church edifice.

It commenced to rain, in this vicinity early Wednesday night and did not cease until Thursday evening at sunset. The farmers can now sow their wheat, and we think the sooner the better.

THE competitive examination for cadet to West Point from this congressional district came off in this city last Thursday. There were seven applicants. The judges have not yet rendered their decision.

MR. MERCE McCAY, of this city, has recently invented quite an ingenious letter file. It is simple, durable and cheap, and Mr. McCay has already found a ready sale for them. He proposes shortly to manufacture them on an extensive scale.

MR. C. S. ALLEN, constable, has the tax books for the collection of the delinquent taxes for 1880 now in his hands, and notifies delinquents that they must come up and pay or else stand the penalty of additional costs, for the books have to be closed out by October 15th.

Federal Court Jurors.

We notice that the Hon. B. N. Kennedy, J. S. Elder, Jas. L. Lockert, of this city, and M. E. Wilcox, of Spring Creek, this county, were drawn at Nashville last Tuesday, to serve as jurors at the next term of U. S. Court, which convenes in this city on October, the 17th.

SEVEN young men left this city and vicinity last Monday morning, to seek employment. This does not speak well for Clarksville. No city can afford to lose, with indifference, her active ambitious young men who are eager to get a start in some position, and make a name and fortune in the world.

WHAT a glorious rain! It began to rain here Wednesday afternoon about six o'clock and kept it up, with a gentle patter, until Thursday afternoon. We understand it was pretty general throughout the country. Its benefits are incalculable. If Jack Frost will only delay his visit until the usual time the face of the chronic croaker may be seen to wear an occasional smile.

Circuit Court.

Circuit court has been in session for the past two weeks, Judge J. C. Stark presiding. It is worthy of remark that this is the first court which has ever been held in the new court-house, and for the benefit of future generations we chronicle the fact. A great deal of business has been done, the docket having been pretty nearly cleaned up, and it is believed to-day will close the session. No case of general interest has been tried, but for the benefit of those who may be interested and not able to attend, we give the following list of cases disposed of:

Condemnation of land for city taxes. Oliver Bell, M. Savage and W. G. Hunt vs. Smith; replevin judgment for plaintiff.

Mr. Sam Post has been in Nashville this week.

Dr. Jas. Wheeler, of Christian county, was in the city this week.

Mr. E. G. Glick is now in the eastern cities buying his fall and winter stock of dry goods.

Mr. W. Rosenfield left last Sunday on his tour of buying his fall and winter stock of millinery goods.

J. G. Joseph, the star dancer of the city, last Thursday morning to purchase his winter stock of clothing.

Messrs. David Randolph and Joseph Gerhart left Monday for Cincinnati, in search of employment. Success to you, boys.

Mr. M. V. Ingram, T. M. Riley and W. O. Brandon, of Clarksville, are registered at the Maxwell House, Louisville, Tenn.

Messrs. Gilmer Bell, Mike Savage and W. G. Hunt were seen in a practicing attorney's office in the Circuit court during the present session.

Mr. Nimrod Brown, and his sister Sue, of Memphis, have been visiting J. S. Neblett and family, on Greenwood avenue, this week. They were on their way to visit relatives in Sumner county.

Miss Daisy Foster, who will be pleasantly remembered to you by the aged and infirm, was in the city this week. She is a most interesting and accomplished young woman, and is now in the city in search of employment. She is a most interesting and accomplished young woman, and is now in the city in search of employment.

Mr. J. B. Martin showed us, the other day, some peculiar little green bugs which he says are killing all of his late cucumber, cantaloupes and other vines. There are myriads of them on his place, and he says that soon after they take hold of a vine they seem to suck the life out of it in a few hours, and it soon withers away. He says in all his long and varied experience at farming he never saw anything like them before. What are they?

When you want to see Forepaugh's show and to call on Owen & Moore and see their show of France, Organs, Violins, guitars, etc. A fine piano can be bought for less money than an elephant and will do more good.

Try the Piano and the Violin, and you will be satisfied.

Our friend, Ed. B. Williams seems to be peculiarly unfortunate. On last Tuesday night, while asleep, he dreamt that a horse was running over him, and awoke so badly frightened that he sprang from the bed again dislocating his broken leg. We extend our sympathy and hope that his wound will speedily heal. He is still at Dr. Williams' in Christian county.

Dr. J. T. Beckwith, who has been a practicing physician in our city for about a year past, left last Saturday for his home, Cincinnati. We understand the Doctor has procured a position as assistant surgeon in the U. S. Navy, and will shortly depart from among us, we are pleased to hear of his good luck. He is a young man of many admirable traits of character and no small talents.

Mr. Sam T. Wyatt, the lightning typewriter of the CHRONICLE job department, since the death of Gen. Burnside, has begun to cultivate a monument to his memory, in the shape of a tender, delicate pair of "mineralized" appendages. The CHRONICLE boys wish him much success with his infantile metal limbs, and predict that if Jack Frost does not "nip" them "the bud" they will greatly ornament his lovely physiognomy by next spring.

It was with pleasure we learn that Prof. W. Yarell of this city, has been elected assistant of the public schools of Huntington, Tenn. It would be a work of supererogation to say anything of Prof. Yarell to our people by whom he is so well known and highly esteemed, but the clever people of Huntington, who have honored him with such a responsible charge, we wish to say that Prof. Yarell is a refined gentleman, endowed with peculiar fitness and adaptability for the proper teaching and training of the young. Coupled with this natural ability he has a long practical experience, and with proper support will make the public schools of Huntington worthy of the name.

Mr. J. W. Randolph left last Monday morning for Nashville, which city he proposes to make his permanent location, and engage in the practice of the law. We understand Mr. Randolph to be the son of a Nashville and Davidson county, as a young lawyer and thoroughly up in his profession, and well qualified, both by study and practical experience of the law, to attend to the most intricate and important lawsuit which may arise in the city. He has been at the bar for five years, and has enjoyed a good practice, winning by his gentlemanly bearing among his clients, and his conscientious attention to the interests of his clients, a most enviable reputation. His friends here regret his departure and wish him the greatest success in his new field of action.

President Getting Well.

The latest advice from the President is of the most gratifying nature. It is authoritatively stated that during the past week he has made perceptible progress towards recovery. He has been at the bar for five years, and has enjoyed a good practice, winning by his gentlemanly bearing among his clients, and his conscientious attention to the interests of his clients, a most enviable reputation. His friends here regret his departure and wish him the greatest success in his new field of action.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carlos, of the Shelby, Pullman & Hamilton circus, which recently exhibited here, were compelled to remain over on account of the serious illness of their little infant child. Everything that the best medical skill and tender, gentle nursing and care could do, was done in the endeavor to restore it to health, but to no avail. The little child died Tuesday night, and was temporarily buried Wednesday afternoon at Greenwood, from whence it is proposed to have the remains removed to New York for interment. Mr. and Mrs. Carlos had the deep sympathy of all who came in contact with them in our city. Their high-bred bearing, as well as the deep devotion and tender gentleness with which they watched over and nursed their little offspring, together with their evident high appreciation of the little acts of kindness extended by the proprietors and guests of the hotel and other citizens, stamped them as worthy people.

An Exchange says a "retired Boston merchant" has furnished the Traveler with 2,100 puns. What of it? Meacham, of the South Kentuckian can "see" that number and go to 2,000 better, if necessary.
